A SUCCESSFUL FESTIVAL

First of all CAMRA would like to thank all of those of you who attended the 29th Great Grampian Beer Festival held at Pittodrie Stadium 4th - 6th June, 2015. We hope you enjoyed the event, found some beers, cider and perry that you enjoyed and will be back for more next year. Please don't forget that Real Ale is not just for beer festivals, get down to your favourite pubs and clubs and hustle the licensees to get some of your favourite beers in all year round.

We knew this year would be a challenge as we have to wait until after the football season is finished before we can hold the event and with no summer championships the season finished after the end of term times so the students who live locally were gone. Not being as busy as usual made it an ideal opportunity for those who do not want to take part in what can be a hectic Friday crush or if you are travelling from further afield.

The organiser's highlight of the week came on the Thursday evening when after 20 years of attempt we finally had all 100 beers on at one time. Never let it be said there isn't enough choice. We opened on the final day with 87 beers and thanks to some steady drinking it was whittled it down to 42 beers left at the close with a really good spread of beer styles. So much for the persistent reputation of "they always run out on the last day" which hasn't been the case for many, many years. However we'd love you all to come along and try to drink us dry next year. And with free re-entry if you bring back your commemorative glass why not come for more than one visit?

The next festival, the 30th Great Grampian Beer Festival is now being planned for 19th to 21st May 2016 See www.aberdeencamra.org.uk very soon for details.

The editor welcomes feedback and would be delighted to publish any correspondence, favourable or otherwise

A PUBLICAN'S PERSPECTIVE

George Howie interviews Craig Adams- landlord of Krakatoa (formerly known as the Moorings)

Where were you born and brought up and when?

Born in Aberdeen in 1970 and have lived here all my life. My father was actually born and raised just a few yards from the bar, in a tenement on the part of the Shiprow where the Ibis Hotel presently stands. That block was demolished in the late 1950s. A brief resume of your education (Schools, University. College, Evening Classes etc.)

Graduated with a degree in Computer Science from the Robert Gordon University, although it was still called RGIT when I started there.

Brief resume of career before joining the Licensed Trade

On leaving college I founded an IT company, and supported myself by selling motorcycles at Shirlaws while it got off the ground. It grew to employ 250 people by the time I retired from it.

History of your career in the Licensed Trade

A friend and I were sitting in The Moorings on the 7th of January 2002. It was a Monday night and we were the only people in the place apart from Helen. Jokingly said to her that if John ever thought about selling the place, then I'd be interested. That's when I learned it had been on the market for a year already. That was 13 years ago, and my entire time as a publican has been spent here. I'd never even worked as a bartender before (and it showed).

What is your favourite food?

Brie and oatcakes, followed by dark chocolate.

What is your favourite drink (beer, preferably, but any others)

I'm an equal opportunities drinker. Mainly drinking tiki at the moment because it doesn't give me a hangover. Most other stuff kills me. Had pretty much consumed my entire lifetimes booze allowance by my mid thirties, so have to be careful now. If there was no tomorrow though, then I'd probably spend the rest of today drinking Janet's Jungle Juice... but if tomorrow came anyway then I'd be well and truly *****!

Hobbies outwith the pub trade

Boxing and motorcycling, but don't have time for much else. This isn't a job, it's a way of life.

Tastes in music

Everything from ABBA to Zappa, with a particular fondness for Patti Smith, rock 'n' roll, and 70s disco.

Favourite films?

After Hours. My New Gun. To Live & Die in LA. Dog Day Afternoon. Night Crawler. The Fighter.

Favourite TV programmes?

Hill Street Blues. The Wire. Mad Men. Frazier. My Name is Earl. Life on Mars.

Marital Status/Children/Dogs etc.

Divorced, one child, a cat and a Greenwing Macaw (obviously).

How do you think CAMRA is doing in supporting Real Ale, pubs and breweries?

It's doing a tremendous job, especially given that it's entirely run and staffed by volunteers.

Do you think that Real Ale is on the up or is it suffering from the 'craft beer' revolution?

In my experience it's benefitting from the renewed interest in beer and brewing. Tastes have changed a lot in the time I've been serving ale, with hoppy beers far more popular than any other style now, whereas we'd struggle to sell them a decade ago. Interestingly we sell both the craft beer in keg and cask ale, and the cask ale outsells the craft beer by quite a margin... but that's probably mainly due to the quality of the particular range of cask ale that we stock.

GREAT GRAMPIAN BEER FESTIVAL 2015

A hardy band of perennial volunteers and a smattering of new hands arrived very early at the Richard Donald Stand in the Pittodrie Stadium ready to receive all the deliveries and build the festival prior to the onslaught of the drinkers. It's perhaps as well they arrived early as so did many of the deliveries of beers and glasses. Over the rest of the day almost everything eventually turned up but there were some prolonged delays which meant the day finished with some frantic activity as all those beers need as much time to settle as possible. 2015 saw the repeat of bottled beers after reasonable sales again last year along with a cider and perry range to match last year's sales volumes. As is traditional there was the end of day treat of a few pints for the set-up crew although they were so tired sadly there were few takers.

Two physically less demanding, but very long, days of preparation followed including the small matter of testing all 100+ beers before unleashing them on the discerning drinker! It's a hard job but somebody has to do it.

Beers were sourced from all over the UK, Shetland in the north to Cornwall in the south, Isle of Skye in the west to Suffolk in the east. Grampian was represented with beers from Burnside Brewery and six°north both based in Laurencekirk together with Spey Valley from Mulben, Speyside Craft from Forres, Deeside of Banchory, and of course this year's featured brewery Windswept of Lossiemouth. The Aberdeen, Grampian & Northern Isles CAMRA branch area also has four breweries in the Northern Isles who do cask beers, namely Valhalla from Unst together with Orkney and Highland from Quoyloo and Evie respectively. Lerwick Brewery was not represented as they had only just started brewing cask ale. Once again there were a lot of enquiries as to why there were no beers from the brewery in Ellon. To keep the records straight, beers were requested but once again they declined to sell us any, in fact they didn't even reply to any of our enquiries. There were 101 beers from 72 different breweries, including 71 beers and 31 breweries which had not been seen at the beer festival before. Whilst we do not select beers for the benefit of "tickers" it is an opportunity to try out the wares of the newer producers and with so many new breweries, particularly in Scotland, who are willing to supply to the festival, why not? Thanks to the hard working team who spent hours soaking towels in icy-cold water and wrapping up the casks. They battled against hard against frost bite whilst the beers were kept at cellar temperatures during the set up and throughout the event. Such are the efforts required to keep the beer at an ideal drinking temperature.

The festival's featured brewery was Windswept Brewery who had six of their beers Blonde, APA, Wolf, Tornado, Weizen and Marooned on offer. Scottish breweries having a first outing at the festival were Fallen from Kippen, Jaw from Glasgow, Pilot from Leith, Spey Valley from Mulben and WooHa from Nairn.

THANKS

The Aberdeen, Grampian & Northern Isles branch of CAMRA would particularly like to thank the following organisations for their help with the festival: First and foremost this year's showcase brewery Windswept Brewery and our hosts at Pittodrie, Aberdeen Football Club plc. Also Flying Firkin, all the supplying breweries, Hallam Cider and Deeside Drinks Emporium who supplied the beers, cider and perry. Also thanks to Gordon at Arrowdawn for the beer vouchers and volunteer shirts, Alex at Meuhlhan Industrial Services (Maritime Scaffolding) who support us both literally and figuratively with the scaffolding, Paul at Agility Logistics & Dave at HSS for storage, transport and equipment loans and Richard at APAL. We would also like to thank all those individuals, far too many to list individually, who gave their time, help, knowledge, experience, energy and passion to enable this festival to go ahead.

Heroes

The following people put a lot of time and effort into making the festival a success. Without volunteers like these there would be no festival. On behalf of CAMRA we thank you and hope there are even more volunteers next time.

Whilst we're thanking people we'd like to acknowledge all those of you who put up posters to advertise the festival particularly those pubs who allow us to "borrow" their customers for the weekend.

PRIZEWINNER

As usual the Great Grampian Beer Festival had its own competition for the customers favourite beer. This year's winner was Fallen Brewery's Just The Ticket whilst Windswept's Marooned, which was the fastest selling beer, was runner up. In joint 3rd place came Bingham's Hot Dig Chilli Stout & Chimera's IPA.

The lucky winner of the voter's prize was Paula Sochanik from Aberdeen. Lucky Paula got to enjoy a mixed case of bottled beers kindly donated by Windswept Brewery for her efforts.

Gary and David Metcalfe - Burnside Brewery owners at the first Laurencekirk Beer Festival

ARCHWAY—FESTIVAL CHARITY

As usual the 29th Great Grampian festival played host for a local charity to raise funds. This year it was the turn of Archway, who collected nearly £1,400 in cash and unused beer token donations, to be spent helping all those in need of respite care for young adults with learning difficulties. On their behalf we would like to thank all those who generously donated

PUB & BREWERY NEWS

Number 10, Queens terrace has reopened after a major expansion in to the basement of number 9, to provide a restaurant area.

Ma Camerons has reopened after a refurbishment program. Initial plans sparked a furious campaign to prevent changes to the snug bar.

The Highland Brewing Company of Orkney is to rebrand all its beers including Island Hopping and Scapa Special, as being products of the Swannay Brewery, to emphasis its Orcadian origins and heritage. The rebranding is backed by a £120,000 investment by Highlands and Islands Enterprise.

Lerwick Brewery have started brewing cask ale. Most is currently being sold in the central belt, but they are intending to try to get more real ale into pubs in Shetland. Real ales available are :-

Lerwick IPA 5% - a darker 80/- style ale
Tushkar Oatmeal Stout 5.5%
Shetland Pale Ale 3.8% a - golden style beer
Azure 4.3%.— A golden grapefruity hoppy bitter.

Brewdog have recently brewed what is claimed to be the worlds first transgender beer.— called No Label . The 4.6% bottled beer is produced using hop from plants with both male and female flowers. Usually only female hop flowers are used in the brewing process as male flowers fail to fully develop.

The Learney Arms in Torphins is currently closed , having been recently purchased with a view to conversion to a residential property. Aberdeenshire council have refused planning consent for the conversion after receiving more than one hundred and seventy letters of objection, mostly from local residents, but also including an objection from the local CAMRA Branch.

The Moorings Bar has been relaunched and renamed as Krakatoa.

Several local brewers have joined with wholesaler JW Filshill of Glasgow to form the Craft Beer Clan. The clan is initially targeting sales in the Asia Pacific region, with the aim of pushing international sales to £2.5 million per annum. USA , Russia and Scandinavia will also be targeted. A website in Mandarin Chinese has been created.

Twenty two breweries and four craft distilleries are involved in the consortium. Local breweries involved include Brewmeister, Deeside, Lerwick, Speyside Craft, Windswept, and Nairn based Wooha brewery.

Burnside brewery in Laurencekirk now has a brewery shop onsite, featuring their extensive range of bottled ales.

The brewery recently organised the first Laurencekirk beer festival The festival featured 30 craft ales, together with artisan wines and spirits. All profits from the festival will be split between two community groups:- Mearns Allsorts (which supports children with additional needs) and the Thursday Group in Banchory (which supports people with Multiple Sclerosis).

REAL ALE OUTLETS

Below is a list of outlets that sell real ale which are known to the Aberdeen, Grampian & Northern Isles branch of CAMRA.

CAMRA is in no way recommending all of the pubs in this list. If you want a list of recommended pubs you will need to buy the Good Beer Guide. The pubs are placed in alphabetical order by location and then pub.

If you know of any pubs that sell real ale, in our area, which are not on this list, or any pubs on this list that no longer sell real ale please contact the editor. Your help is much appreciated
